Description

Transition Helmet #20005
Product Description:

- Fox is committed to bringing you the best bike products in the industry. Our constant quest for innovation led to the design and devel opment of theTransiti on Helmet.
- Based on the successful platform of our best selling Flux helmet, the Transition helmet offers dirt jump and street riders a light weight high perfor mance helmet, with ample coverage designed to protect you in the inevitable event of a crash, and highly vented to keep you cool.

- Unlike traditional skate influenced helmets which use heavy poly carbonate outer shells, the Transition utilizes in molding te chnology, similar to the Flux H elmet.This molded outer shell is injection molded onto the EPS foam. The outer shell covers and protects the EPS from dings and dents, and adds structural integrity with a molded wrap fit. In molding also allows for lighter weight finished product, as it eliminates the need for excess tape and glue.

- Ventilation -12 strategically placed vents, designed to promote air flow and circulation, keep your head cool during sessions at the local park.
- Inset Chin Straps-the chin strap webbing is anchored directly into the EPS shell. This system offers improved roll-off strength, and further reduces overall bulkand weight.
